

A detailed black and white line drawing of a bustling street scene. On the left side, a row of shops with large, arched windows and awnings is visible. People are walking along the sidewalk, some carrying bags or baskets. A bicycle is parked near one of the shops. In the center of the image, a large, leafy tree stands next to a tall, thin pole. On the right side, a large, multi-story building with many windows is shown. The sky is filled with stylized, fluffy clouds. The overall style is that of a classic comic book illustration.
