Hi Craig,

The CTMP has been updated to extend the limits of the pre and post condition survey as requested, and this is now considered acceptable. I can't see any further details on the proposed passing place, although note that a plan has previously been provided that indicates the general location, and it is accepted that the provision of a passing place will be achievable. As such, it is not considered that this would warrant a reason for refusal.

If you have any queries, please let me know.

Kind regards

Evie Stewart
